

Dear Parent or Guardian,

Your child has applied to Transfigurations for membership of our online forums and because we have an age limit on these forums, below which they have to have their parent(s) or guardian(s) consent in order to join, I would ask that you sign and return the form in the post should you agree to them joining. The following message below is an abstract from our main website which you can also view at:- <http://www.transfigurations.co.uk>

Forums for Trans Youth:

We have an age restriction of 13 before you can join the forums. If you are under 13 then you will be able to download a consent form which you must get a parent or guardian to sign. Once this consent form has been signed, it must then be returned to me by post to the address below.

Once I have received the signed consent form I will validate your forum account - but you will be restricted to just the youth forum until you are 16 years old. If your parents would like to speak to me about this, use the Contact Form on the website to email me with their telephone number (and a convenient time to call) and I will then phone them back to discuss the situation.

I would welcome your parents joining the forum as there is a special section for them - and provided that they have a child who is transgender and who is a member of the forums, they will then be granted access to the trans youth forum as well as all the other forums.

Note to parents/guardians:

The forum for trans youth is only available to children under the age of 16 - and their parents/guardians (provided that they have a transgender child who is a member of the trans youth forums). The only other people who have access to those forums are myself and a moderator (Louise is the parent of a young trans boy) and we both have DBS/CRC's at advanced level. The private messaging system has been disabled in that forum so that everything that is said can be properly monitored - so no grooming or bullying can take place.

Any attempt by other members of the forums to access this private forum will result in their expulsion from the site and they will be permanently barred from the whole site. They may also be reported to the police together with all their details which would allow the police to locate them.
